Christmas Spirit At Appomattox Elementary School

The Christmas spirit has been astir at the Appomattox Elementary School. With much hustle and bustle, the wheels began to turn several weeks ago in preparation for the play, "The Miracle".

Students from Mrs. Mills' and Mrs. Eye's classes were involved.

Mr. Pat Volutro, who has had experience directing plays, very graciously volunteered his services. Action to provide props, cosmetics, costumes, and assignments of roles was initiated.

On December 17th butterflies were afloat and the curtains went up. The real spirit of Christmas was portrayed by members of the cast and the chorus.

A special thanks is extended to Mr. Volturo for his directing, to Mrs. Betsy Ballowe and David Eye for assisting with the music, to parents for the costumes, and to Mr. Anderson Haskins for aiding with props.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q–Is it permissible for a veteran to use the educationally disadvantaged provision of the GI Bill to take a program leading to a high school equivalency certificate?

A–Yes. Enrollment may be approved in an elementary, secondary, preparatory, refresher, remedial, deficiency or special education assistance course not otherwise prohibited if such courses are required to receive a secondary school diploma or General Education Development certificate.

Q–Is there a cutoff date for the spouse of a deceased veteran to complete apprentice or job training under VA's Dependents' Educational Assistance program?

A–Yes. For the spouse of a deceased veteran the cutoff date for Dependents' Educational Assistance for apprentice or other on-the-job training is Oct. 23,1982, or 10 years from date entitlement arose, whichever is later.

Q–Is a veteran who entered service May1,1975, and discharged Aug. 7,1975 eligible for nonservice-connected pension?

A–Yes. Even though the veteran has only seven days wartime service, he served continously for more than 90 days.

Q–I will be moving to a new home next month. I want to be sure that I get my VA pension check at the new address. What steps should I take?

A–Furnish the VA office having possession of your records notice of the address change. Also notify the post office so that it can forward your check in the event the VA notice to the payment center is too late to have your next check come to your new address.

Q–Can a veteran change his program of education?

A–Yes. However, if the veteran changes program more than once, educational counseling may be required. This is to insure that optimum usage is made of VA benefits. A third change of program may be authorized if change is necessitated by circumstance over which the veteran has no control.

Q–Is the VA plot allowance for burial in private cemeteries payable if purchase of the plot is made followng the veteran's death?

A–Yes. The $150 burial plot allowance is payable to a cemetery creditor and takes precedence in payment of the plot-interment allowance over an unpaid bill for other interment/burial expenses. If the cemetery creditor has been reimbursed for the burial plot and there is an unpaid balance

5 Game Winning Streak

The Raiderettes have a 5 game winning streak after a 44-26 victory over the Altavista Colonelettes.

First quarter action revealed give and take for both teams, but in the second quarter the Raiderettes pulled away and at halftime the Raiderettes had a 12 pt. lead with the score being 24-12.

Maryjane Smith and Connie Murray teamed together to lead the Raiderettes scoring. Maryjane was in double figures with 18 and Connie Murray close behind with 12.

The Colonelettes, starved for points didn't have anyone in double figures. Colonelette Pam Elder and Susane Makell both had 6 pts.

The Raiderettes were 4 out of 7 at the foul line and shot 30% from the field. The Colonelettes shot 2 for 3 at the foul line and only shot 24% from the floor.

Maryjane also being a strong link in the defensive chain claimed 18 rebounds with Carolyn Smith having 8.

Out of 20 games to be played the Raiderettes have won the first 5 and are headed for District Champs. Raiderette fans should be at all the away games as well as the home games. YOU! Be there to give them that added ingredient, Spirit. See you there.

Merry Christmas
We welcome this joyous season and share its peace and tranquility with our many friends.

Tips For Safe Boating

In Case of Trouble

If you get caught in rough water, head the boat so that waves are received on either the left or right of the bow. Do not get crosswise.

Go slowly against a strong sea because speed makes the bow bury, allowing more water to come aboard.

Get passengers or baggage into the middle of the boat and on the floor to permit the bow to move up and down more readily.

Keep the boat well bailed, and if necessary, throw out luggage to lighten the craft.

In a canoe, the paddlers should kneel on both knees, others should sit on the bottom of the craft. In rough water it is especially important to keep the weight low in the craft.

On a small lake it may be better to drift across it than to become exhausted trying to make headway against the wind and current.

In swift current, do not grab for trees or bushes along the bank to slow down.

If your boat capsizes or swamps, try to keep calm. Most small boats will support several persons even though filled with water. A swamped boat, right side up, will support about as many persons as it is designed to carry when afloat. These persons must be in the water clinging lightly to the outside of the boat, and letting the water support most of their weight.

In rough or cold water, maintain a firm hold on the boat with a belt or rope. If you have life belts or floating cushions, fasten them to yourself.

If you can manage it, sit in the swamped boat. Do not swim for shore even if you think you can do it easily. Instead, paddle

The Raiders came back from the first half and closed the margin to 8 pts., 41-33. The Colonels saw danger in a Raider comeback and with a series of markers uped the margin by 14 pts.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS FOR THE WEEK

1. If you are fortunate to have a central air conditioning system in your home, check all of your ducts to see if any cool air is escaping. Wrapping them with insulation tape or insulation will increase their efficiency tremendously.

2. Periodically check and clean your clothes dryer exhaust on the outside of your house. A clogged exhaust can lengthen drying time and increase energy consumption.

3. Check to see if your gas range producing a pure blue flame. A yellow flame indicates improper combustion which results in wasted energy. If your flame is yellow, have the range adjusted by a competent technician.

4. A multi-doored refrigerator/freezer is more energy efficient than one which has only one door because considerable less cold air is allowed to escape on the multi-door types.

5. Whenever practical, use a steamer or pressure cooker to prepare several foods at the same time. Many such utensils have partitioned inserts which allow cooking several vegetable simultaneously.

6. When using the self-cleaning feature on your oven, why not wait until after you have used the oven for your evening meal? Less energy will be required to heat up to the cleaning temperatures.

7. Turn your freezer and refrigerator to the warmest setting that will keep your foods properly preserved. Use a thermometer to check refrigerator and freezer temperatures. Settings of 10 degrees for freezer and 40 degrees for the refrigerator are recommended.
